Creation - Evolution

Bruce Alberts, President of the National Academy of Sciences in Washington DC, a staunch opponent of Creationism states, “Scientists, like many others, are touched with awe at the order and complexity of nature.” (1)

Since The Beginning, the processes leading to the formation of human life on earth have been incredibly complex. We have the formation of the universe - space, time, matter, energy, solar systems, planets, stars, laws of physics and nature, etc. Formation of conditions on Earth conducive for life to form. Creation of life from non-living matter. Creation of plant and animal life on earth. Creation of Human life on earth. Creation of self-consciousness, free will and the desire to know who God is.

Defining terms:

Evolution: A general term used to describe how the universe and life on earth came into existence.

Biological evolution: Concerns the formation of life and different species on earth.

Microevolution: Changes within a species. When a species adapts to new conditions, such as growing a bigger beak, this is microevolution. These changes are limited to each species.

Macroevolution: When one species evolves into an entirely new species - which has never happened.

Theistic evolution: A belief that God guided the whole process of evolution. There are many variations to this belief.

Atheistic Evolution: The process of Evolution somehow knew just how to form the Universe, planets, stars; created the laws of physics, time, matter and created the perfect conditions for life to be created from non-living matter. Then simple organism somehow just knew how to evolve into plant and animal life and finally human beings. Most evolutionists are atheists.

The Atheists delusion:

Atheists attempt to replace God with Evolution. Atheists give 'Evolution' God like qualities. 'Evolution' is not an intelligent being, it is a process. If Evolution DID have intelligence, you would call it 'God.' For atheists to believe that some chance evolutionary process is responsible for the unbelievably complex process of creation being completed successfully is the ultimate in self-delusion.

The atheistic position is indefensible. You really have only two choices - either God designed all this or this all happened by random chance - and the mathematical chances of this happening are non-existent. The Universe is an incredibly complex design and God is the only logical explanation for it’s creation.

Atheists, refusing to recognize the obvious, give intelligence to a process. Oxford’s atheist professor, Richard Dawkins, stated: “Darwin provided a simpler explanation. His way is a gradual, incremental improvement starting from very simple beginnings and working up step by tiny incremental step to more complexity, more elegance, more adaptive perfection.”(2) How would evolution know it is supposed to gradually improve species? The only way anyone can believe in evolution is to deny God exists.

All atheists have done is rename God.

Atheists have no legitimate explanation for the origins of the universe or human life. There is no proof of life being created from non-living matter. Evolutionists only have theories for the origins of human consciousness. A person's ability to self-reflect and contemplate is not a physical development. For instance, birds build nests the same way they have for thousands of years. But humans learn and adapt to new ways of thinking.

It takes blind faith to believe some mystical evolutionary process somehow knew exactly what to do to create the universe and human life. There is a more logical explanation for creation in the Bible.

The first chapter of Genesis explains this. The word 'create' is used once for animals (v 21) and three times for humans (v 27). Only for humans did God say: (v 27) 'So God created man in His own image; in the image of God He created him; male and female He created them.' God did NOT create animals in his image - only humans. This is when the Spirit of God entered humans and when human consciousness came into existence.

This is confirmed in Gen 2:7, "And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living being."

Darwin made a big deal about the changes in the Finches of Galapagos Island and used this to "prove" evolution. This was a scam and proves microevolution - adaptation within a species - NOT macroevolution.

In recent years, evolutionists have attempted to blur the lines between micro and macro evolution, by pushing the idea that a lot of micro changes equal macro evolution. This is just a word game. There is no absolute proof of one species evolving into another - macroevolution.

If evolution is correct, we should be evolving into the next higher species. But modern medicine and creature comforts have probably destroyed survival of the fittest in humans. People who would have died a century ago are now living. Adolf Hitler recognized this "problem." Hitler, a big believer in Darwin, put many people to death besides Jews. Hitler exterminated the inferior stock of the German race. The Khmer Rouge in Cambodia employed survival of the fittest to weed out the inferior stock in 1975. About one-third of the population died.

Evolutionists believe that we are nothing more than knowledgeable animals. If this is true, we now have the value of a cat, or a cow heading to the slaughter house. Fortunately, this is not true. We must recognize that if God does not exist, morality does not exist. Then might makes right.

The fool says in his heart, there is no God (the Bible). Where there is design, there is a Designer.

Political Indoctrination in Public Education

In most public schools and colleges in America, Evolution is taught as fact and Creation is ridiculed without examining the obvious flaws against Evolution and obvious evidence for Creation. If you are in public school or college, they will try to brainwash you. Beware!!
